

Mayor's Resume

Mayor Kim Winchell moved to Cut Bank with her family in February of 2013. It didn't take her long to immerse herself in the community through fundraisers, boards, or food drives. She graduated from Whitefish High School, and earned her bachelor's degree from DeVry University in Phoenix. Finding her passion working in public health, she developed and ran the breastfeeding support program for WIC at the Flathead City-County Health Department. Shortly after moving to Cut Bank, she found herself back in public health at the Glacier Community Health Center, where she works full time from home. Kim also owns a small business, that she and her adult daughter brought to life. Today it is a growing, family run business founded in Cut Bank. Husband Donny is a Journeyman Lineman and together they have two teenage boys. They enjoy raising their kids in rural Montana.

Welcome to the City of Cut Bank's website.

The City of Cut Bank has a diversified community with a rich historical past and ever broadening future. It is where we have elected to call home and want to live, work and raise our families. Cut Bank citizens are known for their Montana hospitality and their warm welcome that visitors and new members of our community receive. Come discover what Montana is about!

One of the ways citizens of Cut Bank can help keep our hometown (which is really a small city) great is by productively and constructively being a part of local government. We encourage you to become involved in your community. There are many ways to serve our community. Whether working on one of our many important volunteer boards, serving as an elected official, joining our exceptional staff or simply staying on top of matters that affect our community. The City of Cut Bank offers plenty of ways for you to engage. I encourage you to let me know if you have an interest. We will find a place for you to help our community.

The City Council and I are committed to building relationships with our citizens and communicating with you intelligently and effectively. We welcome your comments and suggestions concerning the community of Cut Bank. Come enjoy the City of Cut Bank.

Thank you

Kim Winchell, Mayor City of Cut Bank
